Long-awaited C-12 soon to arrive

According to a telex from Beech Aerospace Services, FED’s long awaited C-12 aircraft was scheduled to complete its refurbishment on Nov. 18. The chances of the 8-passenger aircraft actually being assigned to District were increased Nov. 1, with the arrival of the first pilot Capt. Tommy Cross. The airplane and Capt. Cross are both coming to us from Middle East Division, Riyadh, Saudi Arabia. Two additional fixed-winged aviators, CW4 James Scott and CW4 Glenn Baxter are scheduled to arrive in coming first week in Dec. and be fully operational by the first of the year.

Utilization of the C-12 will be determined by Aviation Detachment operations personnel. They will decide the most expeditious and cost effective means for your travel needs taking into consideration distance, availability of aircraft, number and requirements of the passengers.

Range will greatly increase our aviation detachment’s capabilities. The airplane is equipped with a full pressurization system, in-flight radar, and a modern navigation system that allows travel under most weather conditions. The 31,000 foot ceiling of the C-12 will offer smooth, quiet flights between destinations.

The American soldier is a proud one and he demands professional competence in his leaders. In battle, he wants to know that the job is going to be done right, with no unnecessary casualties. The noncommissioned officer wearing the chevron is supposed to be the best soldier in the platoon and he is supposed to know how to perform all the duties expected of him. The American soldier expects his sergeant to be able to teach him how to do his job. And he expects even more from his officers.

TO THE ARMED FORCES

As we celebrate another Thanksgiving Day, our thoughts go back to the pilgrim forefathers and to the hardships they suffered during their first year in a new and strange land. These were experiences that they endured willingly in their pursuit of freedom for themselves and their children. As the pioneer descendants of the pilgrims pushed the American frontier westward, at great personal risk and peril, they too found abundant reasons to give thanks to the God who led and sustained them.

Today, you, the men and women of our Armed Forces, preserve and enlarge the courageous traditions of our forefathers in defense of liberty. As you gather with family, friends, or your fellow service men and women for the traditional Thanksgiving Day feast, all Americans join you in thanking God for our sacred rights and the courage to defend them. In large measure, those blessings are the result of your dedication and your commitment to protect freedom whatever the cost.

Nancy and I wish all of you a Happy Thanksgiving. Our thoughts and prayers are with you and your loved ones wherever you may be. God bless you.

Ronald Reagan
Commander in Chief

A THANKSGIVING MESSAGE
TO ALL MEMBERS OF
THE UNITED STATES FORCES KOREA
1985

On this Thanksgiving Day, let us pause with our fellow Americans around the globe to give thanks to God for our many blessings.

The same faith that inspired the Pilgrims on that first Thanksgiving Day gives courage today. Though separated from friends and loved ones back home, we proceed with our mission to defend freedom and create the conditions in which we can all live in peace and harmony. Only a few miles away from here, we see a political system that does not permit freedom, opportunity, or liberty. We stand guard against any attempt to impose this system upon our friends and allies. In the midst of this struggle, we thank God for His goodness, for the freedoms we enjoy, for the opportunities we possess, and for our families, wherever they may be. We particularly give thanks that peace continues in this land so long oppressed.

As we humbly give thanks, may we be ever mindful of the inspiring heritage that is ours to share and to preserve. Let us ask for divine guidance in fulfilling the grave responsibility that is ours. Mrs. Livney and I extend our warmest wishes for a happy Thanksgiving to each member of the United States Forces Korea and to your families wherever they may be.

Kunsan Air Base runway finished early

Col. Nels Running, 8th Tactical Fighter Wing Commander and Lt. Col. Richard Wark, Deputy District Engineer, Far East District Corps of Engineers were on the initial flight at the reopening of the Kunsan Air Base primary runway November 7. The ribbon was cut with the main landing gear of the plane.

Pum Yang Construction Co., Ltd. completed the runway project in 99 days, one day ahead of schedule even though they lost 20 days of construction time due to bad weather.

The project, an important milestone in the modernization and upgrade of Kunsan Air Base, included maintenance and repair of airfield pavement, upgrading of the airfield lighting system and maintenance and repair of the taxiway.

President Park Hee Tak representing Pum Yang received an award from Col. Running for the outstanding effort Pum Yang made in completing the airfield upgrade. A plaque was also presented President Park by John Jacobson of the Kunsan Resident Office for a job well done.

This project is just another in the continuing effort being made at Kunsan to improve the quality of life.

FED troops receive CPR training

"Annie, are you okay?," shouted Sgt. Joe King. "I need help! You, call an ambulance!" These phrases are all too familiar to the Aviation Detachment and Troops Office soldiers who completed Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation training on November 14 at the East Gate Club.

The training is titled Basic Cardiac Life Support Instruction which is sanctioned by the American Heart Association. This instruction included various CPR techniques from one man CPR to two man CPR to infant CPR. Besides CPR, the soldiers learned to clear an obstructed airway. The instructors were Capt. (P) Mary Connolly and Capt. Cathy Fisher, both members of the 121st Evacuation Hospital staff.

After the lecture and hands-on training, the soldiers were allowed to practice the newly acquired skills prior to taking a written and hands-on examination. The exams were tough and thorough. With enthusiasm and exactness, the soldiers met the challenge with passing marks. They are now full fledged, card (Continued on Page 4)

Taegu does it better

Each month the FED Safety and Occupational Health Office sends a summary of an actual accident that had been reported and investigated by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration to FED field offices. Field personnel are asked to analyze the accident and report their findings to the District Safety Office.

Capt. Gary Burroughs, Acting Resident Engineer at the Taegu Resident Office submitted the best analysis of the accident summary for the month of September.

The accident summary for September involved two men who were working on a two-point suspension scaffold when it failed without warning. One man was wearing a safety belt attached to a life line, the other was not. The unprotected man fell 40 feet to his death, while the man wearing the safety belt received only minor injuries.

In addition to the recommendations provided by the summary, Capt. Burroughs found some other ways that could have helped to prevent this accident from occurring. How many can you find?

Any absolutely foolproof accident prevention plan is proof of the absolute fool who planned it.
